

County man named to state 4-H Hall of Fame

Roger Boehlke of Mequon is Ozaukee County's fourth entry in the Wisconsin 4-H Hall of Fame.

Boehlke was one of 10 people from around the state inducted into the second class at the Hall of Fame on Saturday, Nov. 7.

Boehlke, who was a 4-H member as a child, has worked with Ozaukee County 4-H for the past 25 years and recently completed his term as president of the Ozaukee County Agriculture Society.

He has served on the executive committee of the Ozaukee County 4-H Livestock Association and the 4-H Leaders Board.

A passionate supporter of 4-H, Boehlke has given countless hours of volunteer service and financial support. He has also made significant contributions to the Wisconsin 4-H Foundation.

"His family is involved in 4-H in many ways, and his extended family too," Kathy Butler, Ozaukee County 4-H and Youth Development Educator, said.

"He's the go-to guy for lots of things. It's known that whenever you need help with anything, call Roger."

Last year, three people with Ozaukee County ties were named to the inaugural Hall of Fame class.

They are John Brunnuell, Mardell Glander and Milton "Pa" Schubert.

Port woman graduates from UW-La Crosse

A Port Washington woman was among those graduating from the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse in August.

Mallory Mueller earned a bachelor of science degree in exercise and sport science. She majored in sports management.

Honoring their own

Members of the Knellsville 4-H Club honored a few of their own Saturday, awarding certificates of honor to (left photo, from left) Claire Penkwitz, Rebecca Dowe and Jacob Peacy. The club also honored its officers for the upcoming year, including (top photo front row, from left) historians Madeline and Reese Prom, (back row) website editor Sydney Rychlik, Treasurer Jacey Roden, Secretary Sophia Poole, President Rebecca Dowe and Vice President Jake Roden.

Photos by Sam Arendt

